

Borghol Bi Banadoura

FROM NELL'S KITCHEN

This is the kind of simple, comforting Lebanese dish that turns a few everyday ingredients into something full of flavour.

Serves 4–6 · Prep 10 min · Cook 30 min

INGREDIENTS

- 2 cups coarse brown bulgur
- 4 tbsp olive oil
- 2 medium onions, finely chopped
- 800 g ripe tomatoes, finely chopped, with their juices
- 2 tbsp tomato paste
- 1–2 tsp chili paste, to taste
- 1 tbsp dried mint
- 1 tsp salt, adjusted to taste
- Approximately 2–3 cups hot water, as needed

METHOD

1. Soften the onions. Heat the olive oil in a wide, heavy saucepan over medium heat. Add the onions and cook for approximately 8–10 minutes, stirring occasionally, until soft and lightly golden.
2. Stir in the tomato paste and chili paste. Cook for 1 minute, stirring, then add the chopped tomatoes and their juices.
3. Add the salt and simmer for approximately 10 minutes, until the tomatoes soften and begin to form a sauce.
4. Add the bulgur. Stir in the coarse brown bulgur until well coated in the tomato mixture. Add 2 cups of hot water and bring to a gentle simmer.
5. Cover, reduce the heat to low and cook for approximately 15–20 minutes, until the bulgur is tender and most of the liquid has been absorbed. Check occasionally, adding more hot water in small amounts if the mixture becomes dry before the grains are cooked.
6. Gently stir in the dried mint towards the end of cooking. Taste and adjust the salt or chili paste.
7. Rest. Remove from the heat and leave covered for 10 minutes. Fluff gently with a fork and serve.

Tip

Use coarse bulgur. Fine bulgur will give a different texture and is not suitable for this cooking method.

Watch Nell make it